2024 POTTS' CATCH VERDELHO

Verdelho was among the first varieties planted in Langhorne Creek and still thrives today. Potts' Catch includes Verdelho from our Barrel Shed block planted in 1930.

Henry Potts, grandson of Frank Potts, is pictured on the right hand side of the label photo holding a monster Mulloway. Henry was an avid fisherman, with this one caught in nearby Lake Alexandrina where they can grow up to 80kg.

A crisp white wine with great perfume, jasmine, melon and candied lemon flavours with crisp acidity. Enjoy chilled, naturally a great accompaniment to fish and seafood dishes.
