WELCOME TO
OLIVER'S TARANGA VINEYARDS
SEAVIEW RD
McLAREN VALE

STARTED BY OUR GREAT GREAT

.....

SIX GENERATIONS of stubborn, competitive growers and one equally spirited winemaker - that's the Oliver family. Living smack bang in the middle of McLaren Vale, they flourish on producing perfect parcels of fruit on their 100 hectare 'Taranga' vineyard.

OLIVER'S TARANGA is situated within the northern hills of McLaren Vale, renowned for rich soils and sea breezes, ensuring gradual ripening of grape berries with concentrated flavours and balance. The property consists of over 100 hectares of vineyards planted to a number of different varieties of red and white grapes.

In 1839, William and Elizabeth Oliver left Roxburghshire, Scotland to settle in McLaren Vale on two farms 'Whitehill' and 'Taranga'. In 1841 the first vineyards were planted, along with orchards and the farm cleared for cropping and grazing of sheep and cattle.

Corrina Wright has wine – and 171 years of family grape growing – flowing through her veins. Described by WBM Magazine as a “legend in the making” and by James Halliday as being part of a “remarkable dynasty” she’s treading a slightly different path among the vines that her forefathers planted, in the Seaview sub-region of McLaren Vale.

SMALL BATCH

WITH 100ha of premium grapevines on the Taranga property, the Oliver family has over 50 blocks representing different grape varieties, clones, soil types and vine ages. Each vintage, different varieties and blocks will show their strength and from this has been born the 'Small Batch' range.

THE HUNT FOR MRS OLIVER

WEAVING along the garden path, the hunt is always on. Lost in the flora you may find her, in-between the offbeat pots. Tending to everything from topiary to mowing the front lawn; the search can be a long one, under the beating Fleurieu sun. But you can rest assured, she will always leave small clues; scribbled on cut-up envelope, even hidden in your food. When you finally find her, there will be a sweet reward; for Marjorie is a flower - a crown our family proudly adorns.

PREMIUM WINE

A BRAND in its truest form is simply a way for a farmer to mark and own the fruits of their labour, and our ancestors have long been making a mark on the Taranga Property. M53 branded the finest Taranga herd back in 1880 and now, more than 135 years later, it marks Taranga's finest wine, only released in the best vintages.

HJ was a lover and a fighter. He fought to win the affection of his sweetheart Marjorie, before serving in WWII. He then fought to realise his vision of seeing the 'Taranga' property produce only high quality grapes.

DJ is a man of few words; as straight up and down as the prized rows of vines he cares for. Hi passion for grape growing is only exceeded by his passion for his family and sport.

FORTIFIED

ARCHIBALD Oliver inherited 800 acres of the family property when pioneer William passed away in 1888 but it was Archibald's stern wife Ruth, whom he married in 1879, that kept the family business in health while Archibald and his brothers led a more scurrilous lifestyle.

Since 1841, William Oliver and his descendants have grown premium wine grapes on their McLaren Vale 'Taranga' property. Three brothers from the second generation avoided the trials of family farming, preferring to live the 'good life' of drinking, smoking and gambling. A true family history wouldn't be complete without remembering the 'banished' brothers.
