Robert Parker Wine Advocate, Erin Larkin - SEP 2025

91 POINTS

"The fruit for the 2022 Woodhenge Shiraz was basket pressed and matured in a combination of French and American oak hogsheads (25% new) for 18 months. This is crafted in a way that harks back to the "reputation-forming" days of McLaren Vale - old school but good school. Yet the 2025 modernity of the wine means it is also fresh and within a sensible range of alcohol, too. This is an impressive wine, one deliberately positioned toward generosity."

Global Shiraz Masters - JUN 2025

GOLD

Winepilot, Angus Hughson - FEB 2025

91 POINTS

"One for old school McLaren Vale fans, this 2022 Shiraz delivers robust aromas of cocoa, bitumen and licorice with a strong serve of sweet oak. Surprisingly muscular with a firm, punchy core of sweet blackberry flavours which cruise through to a mouth filling finish."

JamesSuckling.com - OCT 2024

92 POINTS

"Robust and inviting aromas of blood plums, blackcurrants, tobacco leaves and iodine. The palate is full-bodied with firmly integrated tannins and balanced acidity, giving notes of mocha, licorice and dried herbs. Ripe and generous. Drink or hold."

Halliday Wine Companion, Marcus Ellis - JUN 2024

92 POINTS

"Coming off a range of sites of older vines, this is a bold expression in the range, though the cooler year turns the volume down. The oak is French and American, with 25% new (down from 40% prior), but it leaves its thumbprint, with char, vanilla and clove spicing across a full and rich, though not overly saturated, canvas of brambly berry and plum fruits, along with a little salted chocolate. Built for a loyal cohort, this satisfies the brief."

International Wine Challenge 2024, MAY 2024

"Pencil shavings and blackcurrant notes. Boldly oaked. Toasty and rich with tons of ripe fruit."
