Mosaic Collection

2018 'CAVALL' MERLOT

In honour of Jo Irvine's winemaking roots & to her Father Jim Irvine, her passion for this humble variety has seen her create the 'Cavall' Merlot - a true testament to a wine style which is sometimes over-looked, and always delightfully re-discovered in our Mosaic Collection.

TASTING NOTES

Dark blue-purple hues reflect the rich, fragrant aromas of plum, violets and cassis with an intense palate showing red berry, plum and cloves, with a soft and subtle tannin structure that gives this wine the elegance it deserves.

CAVALL

King Arthur's dog Cavall was said to have left his pawprint in a stone while he and Arthur were hunting the great Boar in Wales. Arthur honoured his canine friend by erecting a monument and placing the paw print stone on top. People would come and take the stone as a souvenir but the next day it would return to its rightful position, just as a dog will always return to its master.
