Wills Domain is a family owned wine business destined for greatness. Their passionate pursuit of excellence is reflected not only in the Estate’s Wine but also in their on site Restaurant which has gained much respect.

VITICULTURAL EXCELLENCE

With over 600 years of viticultural excellence, the Haunold Family, father and son vignerons since 1383, were bestowed land and title in Austria under the permission of Grand Duke “Albrecht 3rd”. Transposed through time and tradition the Haunold family continue this family tradition, upholding the premise held by their forefathers now in ancient Australian soils of the renowned Margaret River Wine Region, in the South West of Western Australia.

Wills Domain sits on top of the rolling hills in Northern Margaret River’s Gunyulgup Valley. This sub region of Margaret River consists of steep, sun-drenched northern and western slopes high above the Indian Ocean. The calming maritime influences combined with the sites elevation and ancient red gravel soils form a vine terrior that is the envy of Australia.

From this enviable land, the Haunold family produce wine from 1985 planted own rooted vines. Since 2000 the efforts of Vineyard

Manager Ernie Lepidi and Winemaker Richard Rowe have united exceptional vine husbandry with the unique sub regional climate and ancient gravelly undulating slopes of the Gunyulgup Valley ridge-line to grow fruit destined to achieve extraordinary qualities.

EIGHTFOLD

Circa 1380, the Haunold family yielded eight generations of consecutive winemakers who tended the family 'Brewery' making wine for Kings, Queens, Dukes and Duchesses.

Transporting time and tradition, from vines planted in 1985, the Haunold family continue their ancestral occupation as generational vigneron. Winemaking is in their blood, proudly continued from their piece of paradise in Margaret River, establishing Wills Domain Vineyards, Winery and Restaurant.

Eightfold wines are produced exclusively from the Estate's plantings. Their prodigious approach assures low yields allowing for the greatest fruit intensity, definition and purity. United by a precise and delicate touch (Élevage), they express the uniqueness of the ancient Australian terroir in the prestigious Margaret River region.

MYSTIC SPRING

Part of our Haunold family folklore is the story of a mystic spring and a massive mountain.

A young Haunold grew into a huge giant after drinking from a miraculous spring within the Dolomites. When threatened with invasion, the villagers pleaded to the giant for help. In exchange, Haunold demanded one calf, three bushels of beans and one barrel of wine per day!

Not being able to maintain these payments, the villagers set a trap and captured him. As the legend goes, the giant Haunold still sleeps, imprisoned in the mountain that still bears his name.

Sourced from the low yielding Estate plantings, these Mystic Spring wines unite the intensity, definition and purity of the fruit, with the precise and delicate winemaking style of Wills Domain.

Cuvée D'ELEVAGE BY WILLS DOMAIN

Cuvée d' Elevage refers to the Estate's most prodigious sparkling wines. Élevage describes the evolution and journey of a wine from fermentation to bottling. It implies the winemaker's role as one of a custodian who nurtures, civilizes and refines the raw wine to emerge as an exceptional expression of terroir, varietal and winemaking.

The blanc de blanc is a fine example of a modern méthode traditionnelle champenoise. it shows lifted delicate aromas of limes and melon, with beautifully complimentary and balanced yeast complexity. The bead is fine with a lovely crisp finish to the palate.
