

LADIES WHO SHOOT THEIR LUNCH

PINOT NOIR 2019

OVERVIEW

Growing grapes, hunting for our table and raising a farm all help our family to truly understand this land. Inspired by Matt Fowles' passion for hunting and gathering, our Ladies who Shoot their Lunch wines have been crafted to complement the textures and flavours of wild food. Vibrant in colour, intensely aromatic and fine in texture with pristine fruit flavours.

VINEYARD REGION

Strathbogie Ranges

VINTAGE CONDITIONS

2019 was an excellent year all round. Yields were very low and intense flavours developed across all varieties. The colour in this Pinot gives a good indication of the season as it is unusually dark and intense.

WINEMAKING

This wine was crafted using wild yeast, which promotes complexity and texture in the final drop due to it's slightly unpredictable nature. Matured in oak for 6 months, in a mixture of 2-3 year old French Oak puncheons and 150 year old English Oak casks.
