

Angas & Bremer takes its name from two rivers revered as the heart and soul of our region, where vines were first planted over 150 years ago. Despite our long and distinguished history, Langhorne Creek is often regarded as Australia's best kept wine secret.

The Creek

TASTING NOTES

The Creek is a reflection of our Region's varietal versatility. We have blended a number of small parcels, producing a medium bodied, fruit forward wine with excellent length. It displays lifted aromas of red cherries and orange blossom which combines seamlessly with flavours of raspberry and a hint of apricot.

This wine is the ideal complement to your favourite pasta.
