Shiraz grapes from our Francis vineyard and Durif from the Cellar Block were picked mid season and transferred immediately to open-top fermenters. These vats were hand-plunged daily to extract tannins and colour. The wine was left to mature in French & American oak for an initial six months, then the individual parcels were blended, combining the brighter fruit of the Shiraz with the darker fruit and tannin structure of the Durif. The wine was then returned to barrel for a further nine months to allow these flavours to blend together.
