Winemaker's Notes:

The fruit for our Blackwood Chardonnay is hand-harvested at first light, selected from individual vines, each distinguished by clone aspect, soil and overall fruit quality. Whole-cluster fruit is pressed straight to ferment in carefully selected Burgundian French Oak barriques, 35% of which are new. Natural solids are retained and incorporated into the juice so as to harness and express every bit of aromatic, textural and structural character. After long cool ferment, the wine is aged over light lees for a further 10 months in French Oak, 40% of which were new, with fortnightly bâtonnage adding to inherent textural weight and palate concentration. After aging the wine is blended, lightly fined and filtered before bottling.
